Produce Pro Software

We have been a customer of Testa Produce for many years. Over that time we have become huge fans of their online ordering system. The speed in which you can retrieve important information, pack size, pricing and overall product details is tremendous when in this business, time is one thing you do not have. Having the ability to locate items as well as revert back to the market report when needed have given us a tool that is second to none. Online ordering has been a new addition to most vendors these days but so far none compare to Testa's and we will continue to support the new way in ordering.
