PRODUCE PRO: Industry Consulting Services

Sometimes even produce companies need a fresh perspective. Whether you are a Produce Pro user or not, we're committed to helping distributors and wholesalers of perishable goods maximize their effectiveness. We specialize in identifying and correcting the areas of your operations that can generate greater returns by implementing cost effective solutions.

As experts in produce operations we listen to you, understand your challenges, and provide deep and broad consulting services that will help you streamline your day-to-day business operations and ultimately boost your bottom line.

Regardless of the area within your business you want to address: distribution, procurement, sales, logistics, etc, our consulting staff can offer insights and best practices that they have developed through working with hundreds of produce distribution companies.

Our industry consulting team is led by John Raudabaugh, Senior Business Improvement Consultant. John has extensive experience in the food-industry supply chain. Prior to joining us at Produce Pro in 2008, his career included 30 years at Albertsons, most recently as their VP of Systems Integration and Warehouse Operations. John works closely with our Warehouse Management System implementation team, providing operational assessments and planning.
